INTRODUCTION

This booklet is designed to explain the entry procedures and regulations governing external examinations taken in the school. This includes controlled assessments taken during the course as well as the final terminal examinations in the summer term. Please take time to read and familiarise yourself with the “Notice to Candidates” and other regulations provided in the booklet. These regulations are set by the Joint Council for Qualifications, an external body which regulates the external examinations nationwide. The school must abide by these regulations and does not have any discretion in their implementation.

In addition it is important that you also read the following key points.

Time Keeping

The school is unable to alter the date and time of any external examination.

Please arrive at least 15 minutes before the timetabled start for your examination - If you are concerned about buses being late, organise lifts into the school on examination days. If, for any reason, you arrive late and the examination has begun, enter the examination room quietly and report to the nearest invigilator. Do not go home - we will do our best to make sure you take the examination.

Equipment

Black Pens - This is an Examination Board regulation, they frequently scan answer booklets, colours other than black do not scan as well.

Pencil

Ruler

Rubber

Calculator - For question papers where the use of calculators is allowed, candidates are responsible for making sure that their calculators meet the awarding bodies' regulations.

Calculators must be of a size suitable for use on the desk, either battery or solar powered, free of lids, cases and covers. The candidate is responsible for the calculator's power supply and the calculator's working condition.

Calculators must not be borrowed from another candidate during an examination for any reason, have retrievable information stored in them (this includes databanks, dictionaries, mathematical formulas or text), nor be designed or adapted to offer language translators, symbolic algebra manipulation, symbolic differentiation or integration, communication with other machines or the internet.

Unauthorised Materials

Mobile phones, even turned off, are not allowed in the examination room. Their discovery will lead to disqualification of the candidate by the examination boards. Mobile phones should not be brought into school. As on any other school day any phone brought to school must be signed in at the pastoral office window. 6th form students may leave phones switched off in their bags at their own risk.

iWatches, iPods, MP3/4 players, pagers or any other products with Text/Digital facilities are also not allowed in the examination room. Their discovery will lead to disqualification of the candidate by the examination boards, so should also either not be brought into school or be left in bags at student's own risk.

Calculator lids with printed instructions should not be brought into the examination room.

Gel pens, highlighters and correcting fluid must not be used on answer papers.

No Food or Sweets are allowed in the examination room. A diabetic kit will be available, but any student with a known medical need should see the Examinations Officer Mrs Harverson, prior to the start of each examination season to make suitable arrangements.

Water is only allowed in small quantities, it must be in a clear plastic bottle with all labels removed. Excessive quantities and labelled bottles will be confiscated at the examination room entrance.

Illness

You should make every effort to sit your examinations as this enables them to be given a grade, taking into account special consideration for illness where applicable (see below). However, if you are too ill to take an examination, the school must be informed before 8.30am on the day of the examination; if this was the final opportunity for you to take the examination, advice will be given about the need for a medical note. School staff may also need to authenticate the illness. If the school was not informed before 8.30am of the illness then you must pay for the cost of the examination entry fee; similarly if the illness cannot be authenticated by the school.

Requests for Special Consideration

The Examination Boards will only consider requests for Special Consideration if they are received within one week of the final examination in the subject concerned. They will not consider any requests made after the publication of results. For this reason it is very important that any personal difficulties affecting performance are reported in confidence, as soon as possible, to the Examinations Officer. Alternatively please speak to Mr McAulay or Mrs Metcalf for KS4 students and to Mr Ladd or Mrs Rosier for KS5 students.

Behaviour

The highest standards of behaviour are expected from all students. Any misbehaviour will be taken very seriously, whether during an internal or external examination. The school is duty bound to follow the rules laid down by the Examination Boards. This means that any poor behaviour, whether it leads to removal from the examination room or not, will be reported to the Examination Board. This usually leads to disqualification from that examination and it may also result in disqualification from all examinations set by that Examination Board.

Charges for Absence

The School will pay all examination fees in the first instance. However, if students miss an examination without a valid reason e.g. unauthorised holiday, they may be charged for that examination. Please note, holidays should not be taken during term time.

EXAMINATION ENTRIES, AMENDMENTS AND CHECKING PROCEDURE

Provisional statements of Entry

Examination entries are collected from subject teachers and provisional statements of entry are then issued to students for checking. It is very important that students check these entries carefully and contact their subject teacher with any queries ASAP; if amendments are needed at a later time, students may have to contribute to the examination board penalty charges.

Final statements of Entry

A few weeks before the examination series begins, final statements of entry will be printed for each student showing date, examination room, start time and individual seat numbers for each student. This has additional information to that on the provisional statements of entry and should be checked carefully and kept for reference during the examination period.

Amendments and Withdrawals

Students who wish to make very late changes to their entries may be able to do so subject to payment of the examination board penalty fees. However it is hoped that by careful checking of provisional entry statements this can be avoided.

Results procedure

Results will be available for collection from the School, between 10-12am, on the day notified by the Examination Boards.

Results will not be issued by phone or email, if you are not able to collect your results in person you have two options:

Results will be posted home if a correctly stamped addressed A5 envelope is left with the exams office before the end of the summer term.

You may authorise a relative or friend to collect results on your behalf. You must complete an authorisation form, available from the School website in the summer term, which the person collecting your results will need to bring, in addition to a copy of your identification, such as a Bank Card, Passport, Birth Certificate, Driving Licence or Bus Pass etc.

Post results Arrangements

If a result is queried, please consult with your subject teacher urgently. The Examinations Officer will only investigate the feasibility of asking for a remark with both the student's and teacher's consent. Please be aware that any request for a remark could result in a lower mark than originally awarded. Any query must be in writing to the Examinations Officer within 14 days of the publication of results.

Certificates

The Examining Boards issue certificates some months after the publication of results has taken place. The School will notify ex students from Years 11 and 13 about arrangements for their collection in the late Autumn term. If unable to attend in person, students can make arrangements for a friend or family member to collect and sign for their certificates but only if bearing a letter of request signed by the candidate and a copy of the candidate's identification. These Certificates are valuable documents and can only be replaced by contacting each Examination Board and paying their fees of around £35 per certificate.

APPEALS PROCEDURES

Policy for General and Vocational Qualifications with All Awarding Bodies

In accordance with the General Regulations for Approved Centres produced by the JCQ, The Bicester School is committed to ensuring that:

Controlled Assessments, Coursework and Portfolios of Evidence

Internal assessments are conducted by staff that have the appropriate knowledge, understanding and skills.

Assessment evidence provided by candidates is produced and authenticated according to the requirements of the relevant Specifications for each subject.

The consistency of internal assessment is assured through internal standardisation as set out by the Awarding Bodies.

Staff responsible for internal standardisation and/or assessment attend any compulsory training sessions.

Appeals may be made to the School regarding the internal assessment decisions, but not actual marks, submitted by the School for moderation by the Awarding Body. The procedure covers appeals against decisions to reject a candidate's coursework on the grounds of malpractice.

Written Appeals Procedure - Controlled Assessments

A student or parent wishing to appeal against an internal assessment decision, but not actual marks, should contact the Examinations Officer as soon as possible to discuss the appeal. A written appeal must be received by the School at least two weeks before the date of the last external examination in the subject.

On receipt of a written appeal, an enquiry into the internal assessment will be conducted by the Examinations Officer and the Deputy Headteacher. This enquiry will consider whether the procedures used in the internal assessment conformed to the published requirements of the Awarding Body.

The appellant will be informed in writing of the outcome of the appeal, including details of any relevant communication with the Awarding Body and of any steps taken to further protect the interests of the candidates. They may then opt for a personal hearing if still dissatisfied. The Headteacher and a member of the IEB will hear the appeal under normal appeal procedures. A written record will be made.

Statement for Students:

If at any stage during your course you have concerns about the procedures used in assessing your internally marked work for public examinations (e.g. controlled assessment / coursework / portfolio / projects) you should see the Examinations Officer as soon as possible.

Enquiries about Results and Appeals to All Awarding bodies

Each Awarding Body publishes procedures for appeals against its decisions, and the Examinations Officer will be able to advise students and parents of these procedures.

Please be aware that any request for a remark could result in a lower mark than originally awarded, for this reason you must sign a consent form before we can proceed.

If your subject teacher should find that your result is very near to a grade boundary, they may wish to ask for a remark on your behalf, they can only do this if you have signed the consent form.

If you wish to proceed with a remark, against the subject teachers advice, you will be require to pay the fees incurred, approximately £40 per paper.

Written Appeals Procedure - Enquiries about Results

A student or parent wishing to appeal against the school's decision not to submit an Enquiry about a result should contact the Examinations Officer as soon as possible to discuss the appeal, and a written appeal must be received by the school no later than two weeks following the date of publication of results.

On receipt of a written appeal, an enquiry into the feasibility of a remark will be conducted by the Examinations Officer and the Deputy Headteacher. This enquiry will consider whether your result is unexpected or near to a grade boundary.

The appellant will be informed in writing of the outcome of the appeal, including details of any relevant communication with the Awarding Body and of any steps taken to further protect the interests of the candidates. They may then opt for a personal hearing if still dissatisfied. The Headteacher and a member of the governing body will hear the appeal under normal appeal procedures. A written record will be made.

Warning to Candidates

1. You must be on time for all your examinations.
2. You must not become involved in any unfair or dishonest practice in any part of the examination.
3. You must not:
 - sit an examination in the name of another candidate;
 - have in your possession any unauthorised material or equipment which might give you an unfair advantage.
4. Possession of a mobile phone or other unauthorised material is breaking the rules, even if you do not intend to use it, and you will be subject to penalty and possible disqualification.
5. You must not talk to, attempt to communicate with or disturb other candidates once you have entered the examination room.
6. You must follow the instructions of the invigilator.
7. If you are in any doubt speak to the invigilator.

The Warning to Candidates must be displayed in a prominent place outside each examination room. This may be a hard copy A3 paper version or an image of the poster projected onto a wall or screen for all candidates to see.

Information for candidates – Privacy Notice

General and Vocational qualifications

Effective from 1 September 2016

The JCQ awarding bodies will process your personal data in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998 and the Code of Practice issued by the qualification regulators of England, Wales and Northern Ireland.

Correspondence on any aspect of a candidate's examination or assessment will only be conducted between the awarding body and the head of the centre, a member of the senior leadership team or the examinations officer.

Awarding bodies will undertake the following administrative activities in relation to the processing and exchange of candidates' personal data:

1. Personal data relating to the name(s), date of birth, gender, unique candidate identifier (UCI) and unique learner number (ULN) of an individual candidate will always be collected by an awarding body for the purposes of examining and awarding qualifications. In some cases additional information, which may include sensitive personal data relating to health, will also be collected to support requests for access arrangements and reasonable adjustments and/or special consideration. Such personal data will be supplemented by the results of examinations and assessments undertaken by the respective candidate.
2. A candidate's personal data will only be collected from registered examination centres in the context of examination entries and/or certification claims.
3. Such data collected will not be used by an awarding body other than for the administration of the examinations process, conducting assessments and the certification of results claims.
4. Personal data within candidates' work will be collected and processed by an awarding body for the purposes of marking, issuing of examination results and providing candidates with access to post-results services. Examination results will be retained for a minimum of forty years.

In order for an awarding body to achieve this, some personal information may be transferred to third parties such as examiners, who may in some instances, reside outside the European Economic Area.

5. Awarding bodies may be required to provide a candidate's personal data to educational agencies such as DfE, WG, DENI, The Skills Funding Agency, Ofqual, HESA, UCAS, Local Authorities, EFA and Learning Records Service (LRS). Additionally, candidates' personal data may be provided to a central record of qualifications approved by the awarding bodies for statistical and policy development purposes.
6. Some of the information candidates supply will be used by the Skills Funding Agency to fulfil its statutory functions, issue/verify a candidate's Unique Learner Number (ULN) and update/check a candidate's Personal Learning Record.

The Skills Funding Agency may share a candidate's ULN and Personal Learning Record with other education related organisations, such as a careers service, a candidate's school or college, Government Departments and public bodies responsible for education. Further details of how information is processed and shared can be found at:

<http://www.learningrecordservice.org.uk/>

7. Awarding bodies are obliged to confirm what personal data is held, what it is held for, to whom the data is to/may be disclosed to, and disclose the information that they hold about data subjects, (e.g. the candidates) within 40 days of receiving a formal request for disclosure, subject to the application of any relevant exemptions under the Data Protection Act 1998.

Candidates should make an application to the appropriate awarding body's data protection officer. Awarding bodies may charge a fee for this service.

8. If you have not reached the age of 16, you may first wish to discuss this Privacy Notice with your parent or legal guardian.

Awarding bodies, schools, Department for Education (DfE), Welsh Government (WG), Department of Education Northern Ireland (DENI), Local Authorities, the Office of the Qualifications and Examinations Regulation (Ofqual), Ofsted, and Skills Funding Agency (SFA) are all 'data controllers' under the Data Protection Act 1998, in that they determine the purpose(s) for which 'personal data' (information about living individuals from which they can be identified) is processed and the way in which that processing is undertaken.

It is a requirement for data controllers to provide data subjects (individuals who are the subject of personal data) with details of who they are, the purposes for which they process the personal data, and any other information that is necessary to make the processing of the personal data secure and accurate, including any third parties to whom it may be passed to.

Information for candidates – GCSE controlled assessments

This document tells you about some things that you must and must not do when you are completing your work.

When you submit any work for marking, you will be asked to sign an authentication statement confirming that you have read and followed these regulations.

If there is anything that you do not understand, you must ask your teacher or lecturer.

Controlled assessment will provide you with an opportunity to do some independent research into a topic. The research you do may involve looking for information in published sources such as textbooks, encyclopedias, journals, TV, radio and on the internet.

Using information from published sources (including the internet) as the basis for your assignment is a good way to demonstrate your knowledge and understanding of a subject. You must take care how you use this material though - you cannot copy it and claim it as your own work.

The regulations state that:

“the work which you submit for assessment must be your own”;

“you must not copy from someone else or allow another candidate to copy from you”.

If you use the same wording as a published source, you must place quotation marks around the passage and state where it came from. This is called “referencing”. You must make sure that you give detailed references for everything in your work which is not in your own words. A reference from a printed book or journal should show the name of the author, the year of publication and the page number, for example: (Morrison, 2000, pg.29).

For material taken from the internet, your reference should show the date when the material was downloaded and must show the precise web page, not the search engine used to locate it. This can be copied from the address line. For example:
(<http://www.bbc.co.uk/schools/16/sosteacher/history/49766.shtml>), downloaded 5 February 2017.

You may be required to include a bibliography at the end of your work. Your teacher or lecturer will tell you whether a bibliography is necessary. Where required, your bibliography must list the full details of publications you have used in your research, even where these are not directly referred to, for example: Morrison, A. (2000) ‘Mary, Queen of Scots’, London: Weston Press.

If you copy the words or ideas of others and don’t show your sources in references and a bibliography, this will be considered as cheating.

Preparing your work – good practice

If you receive help and guidance from someone other than your teacher, you must tell your teacher who will then record the nature of the assistance given to you.

If you worked as part of a group on an assignment, for example undertaking field research, you must each write up your own account of the assignment. Even if the data you have is the same, the description of how that data was obtained and the conclusions you draw from it should be in your own words.

You must meet the deadlines that your teacher gives you. Remember - your teachers are there to guide you. Although they cannot give you direct assistance, they can help you to sort out any problems before it is too late.

Take care of your work and keep it safe. Don't leave it lying around where your classmates can find it. You must always keep your work secure and confidential whilst you are preparing it; do not share it with your classmates. If it is stored on the computer network, keep your password secure. Collect all copies from the printer and destroy those you don't need.

Don't be tempted to use essays from on-line essay banks — this is cheating. Electronic tools used by awarding bodies can detect this sort of copying.

You must not write inappropriate, offensive or obscene material.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism involves taking someone else's words, thoughts or ideas and trying to pass them off as your own. It is a form of cheating which is taken very seriously.

Don't think you won't be caught; there are many ways to detect plagiarism.

- Markers can spot changes in the style of writing and use of language.
- Markers are highly experienced subject specialists who are very familiar with work on the topic concerned — they may have read the source you are using (or even marked the essay you have copied from!).
- Internet search engines and specialised computer software can be used to match phrases or pieces of text with original sources and to detect changes in the grammar and style of writing or punctuation.

Penalties for breaking the regulations

If your work is submitted and it is discovered that you have broken the regulations, one of the following penalties will be applied:

- the piece of work will be awarded zero marks;
- you will be disqualified from that unit for the examination series in question;
- you will be disqualified from the whole subject for that examination series;
- you will be disqualified from all subjects and barred from entering again for a period of time.

Your awarding body will decide which penalty is appropriate.

Information for candidates

GCE, ELC and Project qualifications - coursework assessments

This document tells you about some things that you must, and must not do when you are completing coursework.

When you submit any coursework for marking, you will be asked to sign an authentication statement confirming that you have read and followed these regulations.

If there is anything that you do not understand, you must ask your teacher or lecturer.

Coursework provides you with an opportunity to do some independent research into a topic. The research you do will involve looking for information in published sources such as textbooks, encyclopedias, journals, TV, radio and on the internet.

Using information from published sources (including the internet) as the basis for your coursework is a good way to demonstrate your knowledge and understanding of a subject. You must take care how you use this material though - you cannot copy it and claim it as your own work.

Preparing your coursework – good practice

If you receive help and guidance from someone other than your teacher, you must tell your teacher who will then record the nature of the assistance given to you.

Your parent/carer may provide you with access to resource materials and discuss your coursework with you. However, they must not give you direct advice on what should and should not be included.

If you worked as part of a group on an assignment, for example undertaking field research, you must each write up your own account of the assignment. Even if the data you have is the same, the description of how that data was obtained and the conclusions you draw from it should be in your own words.

1	Always listen to the invigilator. Follow their instructions at all times.
2	Tell the invigilator at once if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • you have been entered for the wrong on-screen test; • the on-screen test is in another candidate's name; • you experience system delays or any other IT irregularities.
3	You may be given a question paper or the instructions may be on-screen. In either case, read carefully and follow the instructions.
E Advice and assistance
1	If on the day of the on-screen test you feel that your work may be affected by ill health or any other reason, tell the invigilator.
2	Put up your hand during the on-screen test if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • you have a problem with your computer and are in doubt about what you should do; • you do not feel well.
3	You must not ask for, and will not be given, any explanation of the questions.
F At the end of the on-screen test
1	Ensure that the software closes at the end of the on-screen test.
2	If you are required to print off work outside the time allowed for the on-screen test, ensure that you collect your own work. You must not share your work with other candidates. Make sure that another candidate does not collect your printout(s).
3	Do not leave the exam room until told to do so by the invigilator.
4	Do not take from the exam room any stationery. This includes rough work, printouts or any other materials provided for the on-screen test.

Information for candidates: non-examination assessments

This document tells you about some things that you must and must not do when you are completing your work.

When you submit your work for marking, the awarding body will normally require you to sign an authentication statement confirming that you have read and followed these regulations.

If there is anything that you do not understand, you must ask your teacher or lecturer.

In some subjects you will have an opportunity to do some independent research into a topic. The research you do may involve looking for information in published sources such as textbooks, encyclopedias, journals, TV, radio, and on the internet.

Using information from published sources (including the internet) as the basis for your assignment is a good way to demonstrate your knowledge and understanding of a subject. You must take care how you use this material though - you cannot copy it and claim it as your own work.

The regulations state that:

“the work which you submit for assessment must be your own”;

“you must not copy from someone else or allow another candidate to copy from you”.

When producing a piece of written work, if you use the same wording as a published source you must place quotation marks around the passage and state where it came from. This is called “referencing”. You must make sure that you give detailed references for everything in your work which is not in your own words. A reference from a printed book or journal should show the name of the author, the year of publication and the page number, for example: (Morrison, 2000, pg.29).

For material taken from the internet, your reference should show the date when the material was downloaded and must show the precise web page, not the search engine used to locate it. This can be copied from the address line. For example:
(<http://www.bbc.co.uk/schools/16/sosteacher/history/49766.shtml>), downloaded 5 February 2017.

You may be required to include a bibliography at the end of your piece of written work. Your teacher or lecturer will tell you whether a bibliography is necessary. Where required, your bibliography must list the full details of publications you have used in your research, even where these are not directly referred to, for example: Morrison, A. (2000) ‘Mary, Queen of Scots’, London: Weston Press.

If you copy the words or ideas of others and don’t show your sources in references and a bibliography, this will be considered as cheating.

Preparing your work – good practice

If you receive help and guidance from someone other than your teacher, you must tell your teacher who will then record the nature of the assistance given to you.

If you worked as part of a group on an assignment, for example, undertaking field research, you must each write up your own account of the assignment. Even if the data you have is the same, you must describe in your own words how that data was obtained and you must independently draw your own conclusions from the data.

You must meet the deadlines that your teacher gives you. Remember - your teachers are there to guide you. Although they cannot give you direct assistance, they can help you to sort out any problems before it is too late.

Take care of your work and keep it safe. Don't leave it lying around where your classmates can find it. You must always keep your work secure and confidential whilst you are preparing it; do not share it with your classmates. If it is stored on the computer network, keep your password secure. Collect all copies from the printer and destroy those you don't need.

Don't be tempted to use essays from on-line essay banks — this is cheating. Electronic tools used by awarding bodies can detect this sort of copying.

You must not write inappropriate, offensive or obscene material.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism involves taking someone else's words, thoughts or ideas and trying to pass them off as your own. It is a form of cheating which is taken very seriously.

Don't think you won't be caught; there are many ways to detect plagiarism.

- Markers can spot changes in the style of writing and use of language.
- Markers are highly experienced subject specialists who are very familiar with work on the topic concerned — they may have read or seen the source you are using (or even marked the essay you have copied from!).
- Internet search engines and specialised computer software can be used to match phrases or pieces of text with original sources and to detect changes in the grammar and style of writing or punctuation.

Penalties for breaking the regulations

If your work is submitted and it is discovered that you have broken the regulations, one of the following penalties will be applied:

- the piece of work will be awarded zero marks;
- you will be disqualified from that component for the examination series in question;
- you will be disqualified from the whole subject for that examination series;
- you will be disqualified from all subjects and barred from entering again for a period of time.

Your awarding body will decide which penalty is appropriate.

REMEMBER – IT'S YOUR QUALIFICATION SO IT NEEDS TO BE YOUR OWN WORK

Guidelines when referring to examinations/assessments through the Internet

This document has been written to help you. Please read it carefully.

We all like to share our experiences when taking examinations. However, it is important to consider what you say. Your comments may lead to an investigation for malpractice and result in the application of a penalty.

Awarding bodies monitor social media and websites. They do not wish to see candidates jeopardise their marks or grades as there are significant consequences for anyone caught breaching the rules for examinations, controlled assessment or coursework.

The rules are set by the Joint Council for Qualifications^{CIC} (JCQ^{CIC}) on behalf of all the awarding bodies and can be found at: <http://www.jcq.org.uk/exams-office/malpractice>

Examples of statements or activities that will lead to a malpractice investigation include:

- copying or allowing work to be copied – i.e. posting written work on social networking sites prior to an examination/assessment;
- collusion: working collaboratively with other candidates beyond what is permitted;
- allowing others to help produce your work or helping others with theirs;
- being in possession of confidential material in advance of the examination;
- exchanging, obtaining, receiving or passing on information by any means of communication (even if just attempting to);
- passing on rumours of exam content from another candidate.

This list is not exhaustive. Other instances of candidate malpractice may be considered by an awarding body.

If you are found guilty of breaching any of these rules you could find yourself facing:

- a warning;
- the loss of marks for a section, component or unit;
- disqualification from a unit, all units or qualifications; or
- a ban from sitting exams for a set period of time.

You must familiarise yourself with the rules:

<http://www.jcq.org.uk/exams-office/information-for-candidates-documents>

Take care to avoid possible malpractice and the application of a penalty.
